The first induction day took place on 23rd May, setting a positive tone for the term ahead. Classes officially commence on 27th May, and preparations across departments have ensured a smooth start.

As part of our ongoing commitment to student success, we have onboarded new academic mentors to support learners throughout their journey. Our academic mentoring programme has already received excellent feedback, with students appreciating the personalised guidance and encouragement.

In addition, assignment submissions are now underway, reflecting high levels of engagement and motivation among our new cohort.

We look forward to a productive and inspiring term ahead!
